

MODEL 007

MICRO MINIATURE SPY TRANSMITTER[®]

Micro Communications presents the Model 007 SPY TRANSMITTER, the smallest commercially available radio broadcasting device, utilizing the latest space-age technology. Sensitive enough to pick up a whisper across a large room, it transmits to any good FM radio with exceptional fidelity.

The system may be attached to any standard tape recorder, if desired. The transmitter's unusual reproduction qualities lend themselves to many other applications as well as surveillance work. For example, it is an excellent wireless microphone for use with a P.A. system or dictating machine. It lends itself well to monitoring sales presentations or conferences — or sounds from machinery, etc. Many other uses will suggest themselves; applications limited only by one's needs and imagination.
